CONVICT'S WIFE HELPS PLOT PRISON BREAK

Notorious Desperado Liberated By Gunmen Force Oklahoma Jailer To Give Up Keys

Member Of Spencer's Gang Of Outlaws Is Freed By His Friends

GROVE, Okla., Oct. 8.—Ed Lockhart, notorious desperado and head of the Al Spencer gang since Spencer was killed, gained his liberty in a sensational jail break. Lockhart, in jail in Jay, Okla., escaped when three men drove up in a car and forced the jailer to hand over the keys. They released Lockhart and all sped away in an automobile for the Osage hills rendezvous. Posses are scouring the country for the gang.

Mrs. Monte Walters Says She Did It To Free Her Husband

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Monte Walters, wife of one of the three convicts who were killed at Eddyville prison after standing off the militia for four days, confessed that she and her husband plotted the escape. She said her love for her husband caused her to plan the escape for him.

Lloyd George Weakens In Strenuous Program

WITH LLOYD GEORGE, MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—David Lloyd George's American program today bore the imprint of his own realization that there are after all limits to what a sixty year old man can do, be he ever so energetic and enthusiastic.

Britains wartime premier came to America with a reputation for never tiring, yet after less than three days of American experience divided between tumultous greetings in the United States and an equally friendly reception from Canadians, he confessed he was "an old man", a tired man and unable to go through with the program laid out for him.

When his various aides or lieutenants, who for want of more definite titles to differentiate their activities are lumped as "secretaries," proved too lacking in stern fiber to say no to hospitable Canadians who insisted that Lloyd George must stop at this or that function, must speak here or there, must greet this or that group Lloyd George took matters in to his own hands and announced to Sir Alfred Cope, one of the secretaries, that the program must be curtailed from this on.

For a time it appeared as though today's public speech in the Montreal Arena to which seven thousand persons had tickets, would gbe off. When Lloyd George learned about it he put his back up and said flatly he would not speak in such a place as a hockey arena, where he would have to strain his voice to make himself heard from the prize ring platform to the limits of the audience.

NEGROES CAUGHT GAMING PAY OFF-STRONG

Its pay day for about 45 negroes in Justice of Peace Osborne Kennedy's office today. About a hundred or more negroes were stampeded by a bunch of laws Sunday afternoon while boisterously engaging in gaming in the Tehuacana hills, southwest. It is said that the practice had been going on before and the good citizens of the community, knowing about the disregard of law and order, notified the proper authorities. John McBay, Ollie Jones, Constable Joe Felz, J. E. Popejoy and Marvin Wooton responded to the call to swoop down upon the bunch while joy reigned unrestrained. They captured about 45 and about twice that many escaped, according to Justice Kennedy. The prisoners have been before him and 41 have paid off, all but 4 pleading guilty. The fines totaled around $8000, it is learned. "Four of the bunch arrested were white men, two of whom face charges og bootlegging. One of the negroes also was charged with bootlegging and another fined for being in bad company.

MAN-GIRL FREED IN MURDER TRIAL.

F. A. McDonnell and Freddie Thompson

Freddie G. Thompson, of Chicago, the strange combination of masculine and feminine, has been freed by a jury there on a charge of murdering Richard C. Tesmer, who was shot down by a highwayman in his wife's presence. Thompson appeared in court in satin trousers and open shirtwaist, with his hair done up like a woman's and with rouge on his face. He was angry because the Court refused to permit him to wear woman's garb, which he had worn for years. He ... like a woman, acts like a woman and wants to be considered a w... Fire Chief Asks Citizens To Aid In Fire Prevention

In a communication to the public issued Monday, Fire Chief C. L. Pittman calls upon the citizens of Mexia ot co-operate with the firemen during fire prevention week by working to eliminate all fire hazards in the city.

To the Public

Proclamation of Fire Prevention Week, Oct 7 to 13, has been made by our Mayor, our Governor and our President. Realizing the importance of fire prevention and realizing the necessity of co-operation from the people I want to request that henceforth every man, woman and child in our city endeavor to render every assistance posible in preventing fire.

Fire hazard may be found on every hand. Trash, rubbish and broken boxes constitutes a large portion of direct causes of fires. Electric irons left burning, gasoline promiscuously used and old rags are large contributors to many fires. Children playing with matches has resulted in some of Mexia's most destructive fires Cigarette stubs thrown on awnings and about buildings and homes cause fires directly attributable to carelessness and nothing else.

Let us make every day a fire prevention day and carry on the message of our fellowmen.

The fire department does all that it can to extinguish and eliminate fires however, co-operation from the public is essential.

Last year Mexia had 175 fire alarms. Let us reduce that number We must do everything in our power to reduce that number if we want to save the human life and avoid large property loss. Fire insurance rates can be reduced by preventing fires.

C. L. PITTMAN,
Fires Chief of Mexia.

Equilization Boards Power Limited Says Atty. General

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 8.—Boards of equalization are not charged with authority to add personal property to tax assessor's lists for the purpose of taxation, the Attorney General ruled. Boards have no right to summon persons before it in an effort to secure data on personal property which is not included on tax rolls.

U. S. ESTIMATES THAT FOOD IS INCREASING IN COST

By WILLIAM J. LOSH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The retail cost of food is increasing, according to statistics of the department of labor made public today.

The investigation of food prices, conducted through the bureau of labor statistics, showed changed in the retail cost of food in twenty of the fifty one cities included in the bureau's report.

Figures made public by the department revealed that the retail cost of food in different cities throughout the United States increased from 40 percent to 58 percent during the period of 1913 until the present.

During the month from August 15, 1923 to September 15, 1923, enighteen of the 20 cities showed increases as follows:

Los Angeles and St. Louis, four percent, Balitmore, Fallriver, New Haven and New Orleans 3 percent; Chicago, Kansas City, Norfolk, Providence, Richmond, Rochested and St. Paul two percent; Houston, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Suyannah and Washington, D. C., one percent; while Portland, Maine, showed a decrease of less than five-tenths of one percent; Butte showed no change during the month.

For the year period September 15, to September 15, 1923, all twenty of the cities showed increases as follows:

Indianapolis 10 percent; Chicago and Baltimore 9 percent; Fallriver and New Haven 8 percent; Norfolq, Providence, Rochester and Washington seven percent; Richmond, St. Louis, St. Paul and Savannah sex percent; Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Portland, Maine, five percent; Butte, Houston and New Orleans four percent.

NEGRO "VOODOO" DOCTOR SAYS HE KILLED NURSE

PITTSBURGH, Penn., Oct. 8.—Lorendo Savage, negro "voodoo doctor," confessed early today, according to the police, to the murder of Elsie Barthel, 28, a pretty nurse.

Miss Barthel was slain Saturday night. Her body was found under a portico of a deserted mansion of the Bloomfied dsitrict, the head crushed almost beyond recognition by a huge granite block weighing 75 pounds.

In one hand Miss Barthel clutched and envolope containing the hand of death—the ace, deuce, tray of diamonds, and the five of spades. In the other hand was an empty envelope in which the nurse had placed $300 before leaving her home Saturday night.

This sum, according to her relatives, she planned to pay to Savage for alleged love charms and spells. Savage was employed as a butler by Dr. R. S. Marshall, for whom Miss Barthel worked as a nurse.

Savage confessed, police said, to striking the girl a terrific blow in the face when she changed her mind and declined to pay him the money. This led him to murder the girl, according to his confession.

Owing to Savage's supposed "spiritual connections" with the pretty nurse, the negro was suspected from the start. He was arrested last night and after hours of grilling confessed to luring the young woman to the deserted mansion.

Savage then admitted, according to police, that after felling the girl to the ground he picked up the granite stone and dropped it on her head. Not satisfied with this, Savage said he hurled bricks at the lifeless form.

In Savage's lodgings where he lived with his wife, police found a deck of cards with the ace, duce and trey of diamonds and the five of spades missing.

A handkerchief found near the girl's body also belonged to Savage, police said.

The negro's wife and Walter Hauley, a chauffeur, who said he had been a close friend of the nurse for several years, are being held by police as material witnesses.

The coroners inquest revealed that Miss Barthel was about to become a mother.

Man Shot In Abdomen In Accident e Sunday

According to reports received from the Brown hospital this afternoon William Cannady is resting nicely today, although suffering from bullet wounds through the abdomen. He was accidentally shot by a companion and friend early Sunday. The accident occurred at a grocery storne on South McKinney, said Justice of the Peace Osborne Kennedy, in speaking of the affair. He said he had not gone into further particulars other than ascertaining that it was purely accidental. The J. I. Riddle ambulance responded to the call and conveyed the injured man to the Brown Hospital. An operation was undergone which he bore up under admirably. His early recovery is anticipated and hoped for.

MISS NORTON AWAY ON HER VACATION

Miss Reuby Lee Norton, Superintendent of Brown's Hospital, is on an extended vacation to the home of her parents in Artesia, New Mexico. She is being relieved at the hospital by Miss Gladys Lastinger of Waco.

JURY DISCHARGED

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 8.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Lillian Bronsard, on trial for the murder of her husband September 16, was discharged late Sunday afternoon when they reported to Judge George E. Hosey that they were unable to agree. It was reported that the jury stood seven to five on the ballots.

The jury had been out since Saturday night.

"Kill Her She Has Killed Our Priest" Frenzied Members Cry When Woman Who Shot Pastor Is Rescued By Police

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Alleged today exercised Mrs. Emma Strutynsky, attractive matron who yesterday shot and killed the Rev. Basil Stetsuk, age 45, in the church of St. Michael the archangel here.

The Church of St. Michael the Archangel is a Greek Catholic church.

Worshippers scattered through the church were aroused from their meditations and fled in a panic as the solemn sabbath quiet was shattered by the crash of revolver shots and the shrill maledictions of the woman.

Police were unable to determine the reason for the crime, although the woman, in a confession of the killing, charged the priest with squandering the church's money and leading the people from the path of true religion. Officials are trying to determine whether the indictments of the woman's husband, also a priest, in connection with the embezzlement of funds for constructing the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, had anything to do with the affair.

Mrs. Strutynsky, who is 42, is the wife of Rev. Nicholas Strutynsky, former pastor of the church and now pastor of the Church of St. Johns The Baptist, in Ramey, Pa., In her confession, the woman said the revolver had been given her by Father Valentine Delogh of Youngstown, Ohio, "for my own protection." Police are checking up this statement.

The principals in the tragedy are Ukranians.

Five weeks ago the woman came here with the sole idea of killing the priest, she told police. For days she shadowed her victim, several times on the verge of using her revolver, but each time she withheld her fire for fear of failure, she said.

Saturday she decided on the church as the theatre of action and the sabbath as the time, she said. Men and women, sitting in quiet meditations or kneeling in prayer, paid no attention to a tall, slender figure, robed in black as she moved down the aisle. At the altar the woman knelt as if in prayer.

William Cvozdjak, Sunday school teacher in the church, noted that the woman appeared to be a stranger, and he asked if he could do anything for her. She responded with a request to confess. Gvobdjak led her to the confessional, where the Rev. Stetsuk awaited her.

A moment later the crack of a revolver was heard. After the first shot, the Rev. Stetsuk staggered from the confessional behind the altar into full view. His hand was clasped to his mouth and a thin stream of red trickled from between his fingers.

Another shot rang out and a bullet pierced the priest's back. He stag

Impeachment of Walton May Be First Order of Business When Legislature Convenes In Oklahoma Capitol Thursday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 8.—Consideration of impeachment charges against Governor Jack Walton may be the first order of business of the Lower House of the Oklahoma legislature which is scheduled to meet Thursday under the call issued by the governor late Saturday.

"The governor's order calling us into session was unnecessary," W. D. McBee, Duncan, house opposition leader, declared today.

The House has been in session since September 26, when our meeting was dispersed at the Capitol. We are free to take up the matter of impeachment charges against the governor today if we wish", he asserted.

Requests of the governor for the immediate passage of a measure unmasking the Klan, the specific measure outlined in the last call of the state executive to the house, will probably be deferred until after an investigation is made of the governor's office and the state department, house leaders indicated today.

The authority of the house to lodge impeachment charges under the governor's latest call will not be disputed according to Walton, who declared he would welcome an investigation and that no effort would be made to delay action.

More than a score of house members were here for the opening of another week's battle today and others scheduled to arrive soon.

Leaders of both factions refused to show their hands over the week end and a lull in action, the first for weeks, was apparent today as the stage was being set for the solons gathering Thursday.

"I have nothing to say at this time and probably will not have anything until a quorum of the house get together," W. D. McBee declared. A quorum before Thursday was assured by McBee. At the governor's home the regular meetings with press representatives were dispensed with over the week end.

MAKING MEXIA SAFE FOR THE PROPERTY OWNERS

This is Fire Prevention Week in Mexia. The period is being observed throughout the United States, in an endeavor to make America safe for the property owners.

Fire Chief Pittman states that there were 175 fire alarms in Mexia last year. That means that the Fire Department made a run approximately every two days during the twelve months period. Such a condition is alarming and if Mexia merchants and home and property owners act wisely they will cooperate this week and all following weeks in reducing fire hazards to the very minimum. This must be done if the fire insurance rates come down like they should. Mexia is now being discriminated against in the matter of fire insurance rates. The only way she can hope to remedy this glaring loss is by cooperating in every campaign to prevent fires that may be called and to be eternally vigilant in guarding against hazards around their premises. Last week, W. R. Hodges, Sanitary Inspector, conducted a quiet clean up campaign, and much trash and debris representing menace to health and regular fire traps were hauled to the incinerator for destruction.

Ben F. Stollenwerck, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, urges that the merchants and business men cooperate in the public ty essential to make clean up week in Mexia the greatest possible success. It has been suggested that the advertisers incorporate in the advertisements a line regarding the campaign.

That's a good idea.

Let churches, schools, clubs and citizens cooperate.

CANCER SPREADING

The amazing spread of cancer in Britain has driven the Health authorities in London to appeal to the medical officials of every district in England for assistance in preventing and stamping out the disease.

It is pointed out that the most insidious aspect of cancer is that the disease is painless in its early stages and often throughout its entire course. On this ground the appeal asks for the utmost vigilance on the part of doctors generally and stresses the need of early treatment.

Rough stumps of teeth, badly-fitting dentures, smoking of clay pipes, clothing which causes irritation of particular regions of the body are designated as among the chief causes of cancer, the entire medical fraternity is asked to mobilize for the purpose of preventing and exterminating this terrible scourge.

The road to Mexia should be marked all the way from Corsicana, directions being specified at every road intersection and at every corner where there is danger of getting off the right road. Every day, folks coming to Mexia lose their way because the road is improperly marked or not marked at all. Signs are falling down, the road is disgracefully rough and unattended, and the South-bound tourists gets a conception that he is leaving civilization behind him soon after getting out of sight of Corsicana.

The X-All Highway and all other Highways leading into and through Mexia should be marked in Mexia. Those who have ever tried to follow highways know how helpful it is to be thus guided on their tours. Tourists may lose their way in the smallest of villages, let alone in a thriving little city of 10,000.

The town that claims the Currie field should see that the roads leading to it are kept. Owners everywhere are held strictly responsible for that which they have.

There was a time that Mexia's streets were the subject of ridicule by every visitor here. That is no longer the case. Mexia now has a right to get back at some of them.

LAND FOR THE VETERANS

LAS CRUCES, N. Mex., Oct. 8—Six hundred acres of public land in Socorro County were thrown open to entry of ex-service men by the land office here today. The tracts remaining untaken on January 8 will be thrown open to public entry on that date. The land is suitable for grazing.

LITTLE FOXES

Life is made up a number of little things, that if looked at separately do not appear to have much value, but when we see their relation to great achievements we better appreciate them. We are not always able to estimate in the beginning the magnitude of any great work; things that look very small at the start may grow to enormous proportions. How a handful of snow can be rolled over and over again till it is a huge ball is familiar to each of us. And the old saying that "Great oaks from little acrons grow" is a true one; the village wag has put it this way: "Great aches from little toe-corns grow."

It has been estimated that if there should be added an extra kernel to each ear of corn grown the yearly corn crop would be increased by more than five million bushels.

When Abraham left his home in answer to God's command to go to Canaan he could not conceive of the magnitude of his work, but from the immigration of this one man the three greatest monotheistic religions trace their source; five hundred million Christians, two hundred million Moslems, and twelve million Jews, or nearly half the total population of the world.

When Lafayette as a true lover of liberty came to America and offered his services to us in the Revolutionary War, one little dreamed that this act of his would be one of the arguments used that we should join the allies in the greatest war in history.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

WHAT GEORGE WILLIAMS STARTED

(Carthage (Mo.) Evening News)

A gentleman named George Williams, aided by sundry associates, started something back in London in 1844, something that has since spread all over the civilized world and which has made its healthful influence strongly felt wherever it penetrated. The thing the Mr. Williams and his friends started was an organization—an organization for young men—and the good that has been done by it is so vast that the founders deserve many times the fame that miserly history has vouchsafed them. The organization that they originated was the Young Men's Christian Association.

Carthage has had a "Y" for a number of years and the benefits that the town and its citizenry have derived therefrom cannot be estimated. It has taken boys at the age at which influences outside the home first begin to make themselves most strongly felt. It has furnished these lads recreation, healthful exercise and athletics of all sorts and has associated them with the proper sort of hand in hand with the home, the congenial companions. It has worked school and the church in inculcating the moral virtues and physical well being which go to make citizens worth while.

It has taken young men after they were young men and has made them better individuals and better citizens, physically and mentally. It has taken mature men, some of them merging into the physical flabbiness which comes to inactive persons along about middle age and by means of various sports and athletic activities has helped them to bring themselves back to a sturdier physique, better health and a keener mentality. Its influence has been wide and always good—and in addition it is an enjoyable organization to belong to, including in its membership a host of worth while fellows with whom it is a pleasure to associate.

The Y. M. C. A. deserves the support of every person in Carthage and it has always had it. That is why it is one of the best of its sort in proportion to the size of the town that there is in the entire United States. But it still needs this support and the more members it has the more worthwhile it is. If you are a man or a boy you ought to belong to the Y. M. C. A. If you are already in you should promptly renew your membership. If you are not in you should buttonhole the first worker you see next week wearing the red or blue button of one of the teams and tell him that you want to join without further delay.

SPECIAL SESSION OF CHAMBER OF DIRECTORS MEETS TUESDAY

Secretary Stollenwerck of the Chamber of Commerce has just returned from a meeting of the Industrial Department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce held at Dallas on Saturday October 6, and he states that since attending this meeting he feels more encouraged with reference to the cotton mill situation that he has for some time.

There will be a special meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held in the office of that organization in the city hall at 4 p. m., Tuesday, October 9th and full attendance of the board is urged as the Secretary will make a report to the board of directors before making a report to the general public of the meeting Saturday.

Mutinous Sailors Find Simple Life On South Sea Isle

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 8—Down under our continent, on the small Pitcairn Island 2000 miles off the coast of South American, live 137 descendants of a few British sailors who two centuries ago mutinied, killed their officers, and settled on that little dot on the world's map.

With Polynesian wives they took from Tahiti, the English refugees set up their own government, and they today their descendants live in utmost simplicity, but in happiness and contentment.

Not oftener than once a year they are visited by some steamer. The latest vessel to call at the island was the schooner William Taylor, with Captain John Trainor in comand, which entered Portland harbor a few days ago, the crew revealing strange tales of experiences on the unusual voyage.

The islanders were in the best of health and spirits, Captain Trainor reported here, and not having had any communication with the outside world for more than a year, plied him with questions about happenings in other lands.

Despite the fact that the Pitcairn residents have exiled themselves from their homeland, they still cling close to things English, teaching their half-breed children the English language. Although their mode of living is almost primitive, they are very well educated, the schooner's master said. Still they hold to their own and express no desire for additional comforts or luxuries.

Their needs are simple. They raise everything they wish to eat, and live on fish, native fruits and vegetables, all supplied by their own hands. Cloth, tools and other simple supplies are all they need from "outside."

For these meager necessities they exchange with the bargaining schooner masters who visit them at long intervals the bountiful fruits and nuts which grow wild on the island, practically the only thing they have to offer.

The Mexia Daily News' Sport Page

The world's series will be covered for United Press client newspapers by a staff composed exclusively of United Press trained writers. The Mexia Daily News is a U. P. client.

This staff will be headed by Henry L. Farrell, sports editor. Farrell is a graphic descriptive writer and is recognized as one of the leading sports authorities of the country.

Farrell, who has been in the press box at practically every big sporting event for several years, will dictate the running play by play description of the games.

In addition, he will write a daily analysis pointing out the breaks which caused victory and defeat and telling the inside story of how each contest was won.

Paul R. Mallon, reporter whose signature is well known throughout the country, will have a daily feature on the most interesting aspect of each game, devoting his attention especially to the "behind the scenes" developments that are not seen by the fans.

Steve Hannagan will write about the crowd and have a daily column of sidelights on the great sports drama.

These three men will have the support of a staff of United Press trained news gathers who will cover every development of the big series, all working together to give United Press clients a complete, colorful story of the world series from the time the first fan gets in line to the day the players get their money.

HUGGINS DUCKS THE SPOTLIGHT WORKS UNDER COVER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK. Winning the third straight American League pennant for New York proved such an easy job for the Yankees that it rather detracted, or perhaps made less positive, the credit that little Miller Huggins deserves for his success in handling the team.

The Yanks were almost a cinch for the pennant from the beginning of the season. Critics were almost unanimous in picking the champions of 1921 and 1923 to repeat and they more than lived up to expectations and predictions.

Huggins had an important part in guiding the team through a successful season. His task was not so much to get the best out of his fine material as it was to prevent them from doing their worst through over-confidence and an inclination to take things easy.

The little manager of the club was fortified with a wonderful pitching staff and he displayed some skill in handling his staff so that they remain in form through the entire season.

Worked Under Cover

His work has been under cover and the fans who base their judgment upon superficial evidence find nothing much in the victory of the Yanks that could be construed as a vindication of a capable manager who has never appealed to New Yorkers.

Regardless of the fact that it is something of a feat to win three pennants in succession even with a star team, Huggins gets little credit and his reward is the comment that they should have had the pennant cinched in August and that any manager could win with that kind of a team.

Huggins has never been popular in New York because he did not care enough to set aside his natural inclination to avoid the limelight. Of a retiring disposition off the field, modest and unassuming and, at the same time, impervious to unjust criticism, Huggins has gone quietly about his business and in building a three-time pennant winner out of a lot of uniform-fillers he has really accomplished something.

Plenty of Money

It is true that Huggins had almost countless money behind him and the privilege of buying where and when he saw fit, but all the money in the mint would not have enabled him to produce a pennant-winning combination if he did not have good judgment enough to know what players were worth buying for the club.

Huggins has never made a bad buy and his shrewdness was shown last Winter when he arranged a trade with the Boston Red Sox in which he secured Herb Pennock, the veteran southpaw pitcher.

He was severely criticised for sending George Murray, a promising young pitcher, and Norman McMillan, a fine young infielder, to Boston in the deal for a pitcher that was voted generally to be through. But his judgment was vindicated when Pennock developed into one of the best pitchers of the season and the youngsters sent to Boston fizzled.

Someone deserves great credit for the harmony that was established on the Yankee team this season. New spirit was instilled into the players, who were divided in rival factions last year, and they played ball together all season.

Credit Due Huggins

Although he has not claimed any credit for it, Huggins no doubt had much to do with the transformation of the team, although it is certain that he would disclaim all credit if anyone should be kind enough to praise him for it.

Critics scoff at the crude style of baseball played by the Yanks, in which the sock prevails over the scientific, and they blame Huggins for the dumb game that the Club displayed in the last world's series with the Giants.

There is no doubt that the Yanks were stupid and played like saps against the Giants. McGraw, as a manager, was made to look like a champion against a second rater when the Yanks were led into traps as old as the game itself, but it must be remembered that McGraw is the smartest manager of all time and that he has material which is mentally capable of supplying the mechanics for his directing genius.

Huggins has done very well with the material at his disposal. He has handled three pennant winners, made money for the club and produced a team that supports the biggest investment in baseball and the finest ball park in the world.

Miss Jack Mullen of Kennedale has accepted a position with the Diamond Jewelry Company of this city.

Mrs. G. W. Kinchelow and daughter, Mrs. D. M. Todd, are expected home from Dallas Tuesday. They have been there for the past four weeks where Mrs. Todd has undergone treatment at the Surgeon's Clinic.

NEW YORK HAS MONOPOLY ON BIG LEAGUE SERIES

By HENRY FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Maintaining what has become almost a monopoly on the world's series, New York again will have a private fight for the championship of the baseball world when the Giants and the Yankees meet for the third successive year to decide the championship.

It is nothing new for one team to win three pennants in a row. The National League has seven such triple winners on record—Chicago in 1880, 1881 and 1882; Boston in 1891, 1892 and 1893; Baltimore in 1894, 1895 and 1896; Pittsburgh in 1901, 1902 and 1903; Chicago in 1906, 1907 and 1908; and New York in 1911, 1912 and 1913 and again ten years later in 1921, 1922 and 1923.

The feat of the Yankees in winning three pennants in a row is more of a novelty in the younger American League, however, as the Detriot Tigers, who won the championship in 1907, 1908 and 1909, were the only club to do it in the past.

Never before, however, have the same two pennant winners engaged in the world's series three times in succession. The best previous mark was established in 1907 and 1908 when the Chicago Cubs and the Detroit Tigers met in the series. The only case in which two teams from the same city took part in the series was in 1906 when the Cubs and the White Sox had a private series in Chicago.

In winning the National League pennant with the Giants Manager John J. McGraw established a new record also by finishing in first place for the ninth time. No other manager can approach this wonderful achievement and it is very doubtful if it ever will be equalled.

The victory of the Yankees in the American League placed Hillr, Huggins in a tie with Hughey Jennings, who won three succesive pennants with the Detriot Tigers, but it is just half what Connie Mack piled up in the days when the Philadelphia Athletics were in their glory.

Last year's series between the Giants and the Yanks was one of the most drab and ordinary of all that have been played.

When forty-nine various kinds of playing records were made or equaled in the 1921 series, only one new record was made last fall and five minor marks were equaled.

The two teams made a new record when they drew $125,147 to one game.

Erin Ward tied a record by hitting two homers in one game.

Bill Cunningham tied a record by making two assists from the outfield in one game.

The Giants tied a record by not losing one game and the Yanks tied another by not winning a game.

They both tied a record by engaging in one "no-decision" game.

Football Squad Loses Its Mascot

SHERMAN, Texas, Oct. 8.—"Pat," the Austin College kangaroo mascot is this season's first grid casualty.

While the football squad was in training at Woodlake, near here, "Pat" was taken ill with a malaly veterinarians couldn't diagnose. He grew steadily worse and died here recently.

"Pat" came here last winter from California and it is thought the change of climate together with loneliness caused his death.

He Gave You

The finest grain foods children ever get—airy, flaky Puffed Grains

Professor A. P. Anderson invented Quaker Puffed Wheat and Quaker Puffed Rice. Thus he brought to millions of children the finest cereal dainties in existence.

The grains are steam exploded—shot from guns. Over 125 million explosions are caused in every kernel. Thus the food cells are broken for easy digestion. The grain elements are fitted to feed.

The grains are puffed to airy globules, 8 times normal size. They are flaky, flavory, crisp. No other cereal dainty compares with their delights.

Quaker Puffed Rice

Growing children must have minerals, vitamines and bran

The purpose is to make whole grains delicious and digestible.

Whole wheat supplies 12 minerals which growing children must have. It supplies their need of bran. And milk is rich in vitamines.

Every mother wants her children to get these elements in plenty, and every day. Then make whole wheat and milk a dish so tempting that they revel in it. Serve Quaker Puffed Wheat and milk. Never let a day go by without it.

Quaker Puffed Wheat

Millions of people are better fed since Puffed Grains were invented. Millions get more joy from breakfast. See that those in your home get their share.

The Daintiness Takes This Mode Appealing

Little Girl's Dress With Bloomers

This Autumn discloses interesting little dresses fashioned, as this design is, from plain gingham, although other tub fabrics, or even silks may be used instead. Its decorative scheme is formed by the clever use of simple embroidery stitches that are quickly worked.

Nearly all frocks for very young ladies these days have bloomers to match, though sometimes if fashion demands the carrying out of a decided color scheme, they are of both contrasting hue and fabric. The dress is held in at the sides and back with a narrow belt of self-material. The neck is round and finished with the plain braid that shares favor with the stitching in the trimming, and the sleeves are merely little frills set into the armholes for smart effect rather than service.

The bloomers are gathered into straight and narrow bands of self-material. They may either be attached to a separate waist or buttoned onto a separate underbody.

The embroidery is done with the open chain stitch, which is illustrated in the figure. Two stamped lines are necessary for this stitch. Bring the thread through on the left hand traced line, then pass it back on the right hand one opposite the first point; bring through again on the other line and a little below. To form the loops, the thread must be held down with the thumb of the left hand. Draw the thread through to the right side, place the needle exactly again where it was brought through and take a stitch to the opposite side, taking care not to draw the thread too tightly. Again place the needle inside of the loop, holding the thread down with the left hand and bring it out on the opposite side, just below the previous loop made. This forms another loop. This stitch may be used for ladder effects and it is also effective for leaves, as it can be adapted to lines of varying widths.

A little frock like this is practical and nice-looking for the little miss who is approaching the kindergarten age. Applique or any other form of embroidery may be used in its decoration. Two and one-half yards of gingham will make the dress and bloomers of fine sateen, the model serves dressier purposes.

Vitek Dividend Mailed To Its Stockholders

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Over 6,000 dividend checks were mailed to as many shareholders in the Vitek Oil and Refining company by the Southern States and Western States Oil corporations on September 30. The checks represented three months accumulated dividends on the 100,000 shares of Southern and Western exchanged for Vitek units. Southern and Western each pay 1 per cent monthly. The dividends on the interem certificates are payable quarterly. No check for less than $1 was mailed. Dividend credits of less than $1 will be allowed to accumulate until they reach that amount when checks will be forwarded. The reason for this is obvious; due to the fact that the committee desires to conserve resources and curtail all expenses possible. The next dividend is scheduled for distribution December 31, 1923. Over 12,000 Vitek shareholders have exchanged their units for interem certificates in Southern and Western States.

The Vitek properties in Smackover and Eldorado are now being developed by the Sure Oil corporation, operating organization of the Western and Southern States in Arkansas. The Sure oil completed a 125-barrel well on the McClanahan-Vitek lease in section 6-16-15 early in September. Gusher production was drilled on the adjoining lease early in the Smackover boom, but the flush from the initial wells seems to have drained the gusher production and most of the oil acreage in section 6-16-15 has settled down to pumping wells.

The Sure Oil also completed a 350-barrel well on the Allen-Vitek lease, section 18-17-14 during the past week. This is the second good well drilled in on this lease.

The Most Beloved Book In Romantic Fiction

"VANITY FAIR"

from the classic novel of William Makepeace Thackeray
Featured cast: Mabel Ballin, Hobart Bosworth, Harrison Ford, George Walsh, Earl Fore, and Eleanor Boardman.

"Vanity Fair" has been hailed by generations of readers as the most fascinating work of fiction in all English literature. Now the famous characters step forth from the pages of Thackeray's great romantic novel with their loves and intrigues, their weaknesses and their virtues to take part in Hugo Ballin's memorable picturization of the absorbing story. Picturegoers will be thrilled by the lavishly beautiful pictures of this gay and adventurous period, by scenes of dazzling splendor, by the society beauties and courageous soldiers who pass by in splendor, living fully whether the music sounds the invitation to the waltz or the bugle calls to battle. Here is fiction's greatest love classic made into a colossal photoplay of stirring grandeur. Here is an achievement of the films that no one will want to miss.

No advance in price: Adults 25c, Children 10c.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright, 1923 by Fon-Art Service, Inc.)

A Blouse of Exquisite Simplicity

Fashioned of Beige Radium Silk

Unusually smart and simple are the separate blouses fashioned of radium silk and flat crepe. They follow the lines of the figures closely and are quite as handsome with self-trimmings of the plain grosgrain ribbons, as with the more elaborate embroideries.

One easily could write a chapter on the season's blouses, for they were never so varied as now. While many are handsomely and elaborately trimmed with braid and embroidery, they are no more attractive than this model decorated with a scroll design carried out with narrow ribbon. Scroll effects are all the rage, not only in applied embroideries but in woven and printed effects. They are oriental in their origin and there is no simple combination that achieves so much in the way of elegant and artistic [illegible]

The ribbon is attached on the blouse illustrated in border effect. The beauty of the model is increased with [illegible] and the keynote of one [illegible] of one color are used in the decorative scheme.

The borders are about three inches in width. If preferred, the lower one may be wider than the upper, depending, of course, upon the figure of the wearer. One who is tall and slender, with a long waistline, will find borders of graduated widths quite effective. Short women, inclined to stoutness would do well to make the borders narrow.

Fig. 1. shows the fine running stitches to sew the ribbon on the silk. Fig. II describes the design formed by sewing on the ribbon. Take the stitches along the very edge, just as soutache braid is sometimes sewed on. No particular pattern is required for the border, because the ribbon is simply carried round and round until figures of the desired size are formed after which another figure is begun.

A blouse of this type is very effective with a separate skirt and one of the new Turkish turbans. The same silk used for the blouse may be employed for the turban, which boasts only a brilliant buckle for its trimming.

After the design is formed, two or three plain rows of ribbon are added, and in this way the depth of the border may be nicely regulated. Ribbon is used in bend effect on the short sleeves.

While the soft nut brown shades are very popular for separate blouses, the Chinese colors are in great demand, for instance Chinese blue, goose red and citron. Jade and nile [illegible] are extremely fashionable.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. R. Alford by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in November A. D. 1923, the same being the 5th day of November A. D. 1923, then and there to answer an amended petition filed in said Court on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2456, wherein Berry Barnett Grocery Company, a corporation, is plaintiff, and N. F. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood, C. B. Jackson and J. R. Alford are defendants; said petition alleging that N. R. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood and C. B. Jackson are partners and doing business under the firm name of Commercial Hotel Company, and J. R. Alford was doing business under the trade name of the Rex Cafe; that plaintiff at the special instance and request of the defendant, Commercial Hotel Company sold to them on the several dates specified in an account certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries needed in running said business; that in consideration of the sale of said goods, defendant promised to pay therefor the amount charged in said account, being $604.20; that on October 14, 1921, plaintiff at the instance and request of defendant Rex Cafe sold and delivered to it goods, wares and merchandise which said Rex Cafe agreed to pay to the amount charged therefor same being $620.68, that said cafe was run by J. R. Alford until December 16, 1921, when he sold an interest in said cafe to the Commercial Hotel Company; that at that time said cafe owed this plaintiff the sum of $589.88; that on or about December 16, 1921, J. R. Alford doing business under the name of Rex Cafe being indebted to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company in the sum of $573.91 the said N. R. Ferguson, and J. R. Alford represented to plaintiff that the said sum of $573.91 would not have to be paid within thirty days if he, the said Ferguson, would purchase an interest in the Rex Cafe; that said Commercial Hotel Company would pay said $573.91 within thirty days; plaintiff agreed to said contract and in pursuance thereof the said Ferguson, Underwood and Jackson purchased an interest in said Cafe and in consideration therefor promised to pay plaintiff and the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the amount mentioned. That the said J. R. Alford transferred to the Mexia Commercial Hotel Company an interest in the Rex Cafe and placed them in possession thereof.

Plaintiff would show to the Court that on November 8, 1921, and January 13, 1922, the Mexia Wholesale Company sold and delivered to the Rex Cafe certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries for which said Cafe agreed to pay the amount set out in said account the total being the sum of $620.26; that J. R. Alford at that time was the owner of said Cafe, the said Alford being indebted to a number of persons among whom was the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company who sold to said Commercial Hotel Company the said Rex Cafe, agreed to pay said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the indebtedness that the Rex Cafe then owed the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. And afterwards incurred debts to the amount of $106.35 which it promised to pay the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. That afterwards the manager of the Rex Cafe gave to said Grocery Company its check for $492.71 which check was turned down and not paid. That on January 14, 1922, said Hotel Company gave a check to said Wholesale Grocery Company for the sum of $106.35 which check was turned down. Plaintiff would show that it has purchased of said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company for a valuable consideration the indebtedness due said Grocery Company from the Rex Cafe and the Commercial Hotel and the same has not yet been paid and plaintiff is entitled to recover said account.

That all of the said accounts are due and unpaid, and the defendants and each of them have refused to pay any part to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1845.14.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a trial hereof they have judgment for said $1845.14 with interest cost of suit, and such other and further relief, as it may be entitled.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923.

Bossy Rides To The Pound Pen In Hoodlum Car

HOUSTON, Texas Oct 8—Houston is a peaceful city!

As proof of this statement listen to David Turner, driver of the police patrol wagon

"It's so doggone peaceful they've started to hauling cows in the 'buggy' just to have an excuse for keeping it up

A few days ago city pound officers were called to corral an incorrigible cow In their excitement they put in a call for help to police headquarters and forgot to mention the circumstances

The patrol dashed to the scene and as there was no time to lose hustled "Bossy" into the "wagon" and took her to the pound.

Football Squad Loses Its Mascot

SHERMAN, Texas, Oct 8—"Pat," the Austin College kangaroo mascot is this season's first grid casualty.

While the football squad was in training at Woodlake, near here, "Pat" was taken ill with a malaly veterinarians couldn't diagnose He grew steadily worse and died here recently.

"Pat" came here last winter from California and it is thought the change of climate together with loneliness caused his death

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon M. F. Parsley by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day thereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published to appear at the next regular term of the Justice Court for Precinct No. 4, of Limestone County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Mexia, Texas, on the second Tuesday in October, A. D., 1923, the same being the 9th day of October, A. D., 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 13th day of August, A. D., 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 736, wherein E. C. Nicholson is plaintiff, and M. F. Parsley is defendant, said petition alleging that the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff, in the sum of $68.55, as a balance due on a verified account, which is long past due and unpaid and that though often requested, defendant has failed and refused to pay the same or any part thereof, except the sums that have been credited upon the verified account and that by reason for the same, the defendant has become liable to this plaintiff in the further sum of $20 00, as attorney's fees, and costs of suit. Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and that he have judgement for his debt, attorneys fees and costs of suit and for such other and further relief, both special and general in law and in equity to which he is entitled to receive.

Herein fail not but have you before said court on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand this the 11th day of September, A. D., 192..

"MAIN STREET" NOVEL MAKES IDEAL PICTURE

"Main Street" which opened today at the National Theatre and which will continue throughout the week, is a picture of pictures. The word great has been handled about so often and freely that it has lost some of its connotations. Yet, it is the word, and the only word, fit to describe this wonderful picture which has lost not a single quality in its transposition to the screen from Sinclair Lewis' novel of the same name.

It is long since such a picture was seen, and the highest praise is due all that participated in it, to Harry Beaumont, the director; to Florence Vidor, Monte Blue and the excellent supporting cast, consisting of Harry Myers, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Robert Gordon, Josephine Crowell, Gordon Griffith, Otis Harlan and Alan Hale.

Demands Admiral Grayson's Horse Be Selected

Admiral C. T. Grayson

The match race to be run at Belmont Park, Long Island, on October 20, between Ben Irish's Derby winner, Papyrus, and the best American three-year-old, for a purse of $100,000 and an international gold plate, is causing considerable stir, now that Brigadier-General William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the Army Air Service has written to August Belmont, of the Jockey Club, demanding that Admiral Cary T. Grayson's My Own be named as the American horse, instead of Harry Sinclair's Zev. General Mitchell's demand is based on the refusal of Sinclair's trainer, Sam Hildreth, to permit Zev, who cast a frog in a recent race, to meet My Own in a match race.

Plans And Specifications For Hughes Demonstration Home Are Approved

Contractors In City Invited To Submit Bids

W. K. Boyd, President of The News Publishing Company, this afternoon announced that the plans had been decided upon and specifications drawn up for the J. K. Hughes Demonstration Home. All contractors in the city are invited to submit estimates on the home. It has been decided that this will be a turn key job says Mr. Boyd, but since it is to be a demonstration home, to shoow the public the actual cost of home construction, the succesful bidder will be required, as a part of the contract, to itemize, every expense attached, lumber, builders material, labor, carpenter work, plumbing, wiring, papering, painting, etc. These will be published from day to day in The Mexia Daily News, as they may be determined.

Local contractors are invited to ask any questions or to confer with Mr. Boyd regarding the specifications and ask any questions they may desire. The contract will be let by next Saturday at noon, October 14, 1923. All bids must be in by 1 o'clock of that day.

REVITALIZATION OF C. C. BOARD MEETING IS CONSIDERED

The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is very anxious to secure a regular attendance of the board of directors for the weekly meetings and both he and President Sweatt feel that the directors should co-operate to that extent.

There are numerous matters that come up on which the Secretary does not wish to take all of the responsibility and he feels that a short conference each week, attended by a majority of the board, would be very beneficial.

Recently a letter was sent out to each of the directors, asking them to express themselves on two propositions one was his opinion with reference to a weekly luncheon of the board of directors probably on Tuesday, and the other was the advisability of having a "Mexia Day" at the Waco Cotton Palace. In order to show what some of the directors think of the propositions, some of their replies without any names are herewith reproduced.

One says:

"In reply to your letter of 3rd, will say that I an in favor of "Mexia Day" at Cotton Palace(if something creditable can be arranged, but I am not in favor of a half-baked affair, that would be a reflection rather than a credit.

On the other proposition, I can see no use in paying six bits for a meal in order to have a meeting of the directors but I am in favor of a weekly meeting, and if any are not sufficiently interested to give an hour per week, it looks to me as if there should be some openings for new directors.

However, I am with the majority."

Another says:

"As the luncheon hour for get together meeting, personally, I do not care for the lunch but this is probably the best way to get an attendance worth while, so if the others favor it, count me in."

Another says:

"I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 3rd and will abide by whatever decision is made by the board of directors, but personally I am opposed to luncheon meetings; in the first place looking at it from my own stand point. I do not eat breakfast and really prefer a good wholesome lunch at home."

One says:

"In reply to your letter of October 3rd addressed to the board of directors with reference to the regular weekly meetings, I beg to advise that I am of the opinion that it will be a very hard undertaking to get the members of the board of directors together at a weekly luncheon, in view of the other luncheons and other civic matters taking up so much of our time.

I will state however that I am very much interested in the operations of the Chamber of Commerce especially some of the great work that you are now doing and attempting to do, and if the majority of the board are agree able to this plan, I naturally will fall in line with them.

With reference to the Mexia Day at the Waco Cotton Palace, I think this is a real good idea and if properly advertised could be made a good advertising proposition for Mexia. I will be only too glad to line up with a bunch of boosters to make a success of the proposition, I will be glad for you to command me when I can serve you in any capacity."

Still another says:

"Replying to your letter of 3rd I do not believe that a special day at the Waco Cotton Palace would pull any particular chrowd from Mexia.

I am in favor of directors meeting as sugested."

Another says.

"I think the weekly luncheon is alright. If you are going to have a Chamber of Commerce and a board of directors then your board should meet.

I do not think enough people would go to the Cotton Palace to go to the trouble to have a Mexia Day designated. With best wishes."

Another says.

"Replying to oyur letter of the 3rd regarding Mexia Day at the Waco Cotton Palace.

My opinion of this stunt as an advertising medium—I do not think much of. That is only my opinion of course, what I am for is for some way and there is a way, to get our farmers back to Mexia to do their trading and I feel confident that a Mexia Day in Waco would have very little effect in that line.

With reference to a regular weekly meeting of the board of directors, I think the suggestion is very good. We could try it out for a few times any way and see just what results it gets.

Hoping the above information is what you decired, with kindest personal regards, I am."

Another says:

"I think it would be a good idea to have a Mexia Day designated at Waco Cotton Palace and on that day use some means of letting the people know we are from Mexia.

As to the weekly luncheon hour I do not think that best on account of having so many other luncheons each week now. Have the meetings on Monday afternoon, pernaps that would bring them out.'

KILL HER ..... gered on, calling out that he had been shot. The black robed woman rushed from the confessional, and while she shouted "you cheat, you oppressor!" she fired three more shots at the back of the lurching body. One bullet struck the priest in the hip and the others pierced his robes.

Near the door to the street the priest collapsed.

The woman ran toward the door and attempted to hurdle the body. Two women seized her. Other members of the congregation who had taken flight or were cowering in behind benches gathered about the slayer while cries of "kill her, she has killed our priest" rang out.

Some one called a policeman and he in turn summoned a squad from a nearby station. They rescued the woman after much difficulty, as frenzied men and women tore her dress and jostled her about.

In her confession the woman said that her husband had built up the church here and then was removed to make way for the Rev. Stetsuk.

"My husband gave his life to building the church and then he was dismissed," she said. "Father Stetsuk cheated my people. He was a cheat and a hypocrite. I had to kill him."

Police said the woman appeared to be mentally unbalanced.

Officials later said that the woman's husband had been indicted on a charge of embezzling $50,000 of the money secured for building the Chicago church.

One official said that the Rev. Stetsuk had threatened to push the prosecution against Rev. Strutynsky and this may have been the motive for the killing.

The woman is a Ukrainian writer and lecturer of note. Her husband was said by polcie to be a member of the Ukrainian nobility. He is on the way here to defend his wife.

J. P. Dunnaway is confined to his bed with an attack of dengue fever. He will be unable to lead the Salesmanship luncheon Wednesday and W. R. Hodges will have charge of the program that day.

CONVICT'S WIFE HELPS PLOT PRISON BREAK

Notorious Desperado Liberated By Gunmen Force Oklahoma Jailer To Give Up Keys

Member Of Spencer's Gang Of Outlaws Is Freed By His Friends

GROVE, Okla., Oct. 8.—Ed Lockhart, notorious desperado and head of the Al Spencer gang since Spencer was killed, gained his liberty in a sensational jail break. Lockhart, in jail in Jay, Okla., escaped when three men drove up in a car and forced the jailer to hand over the keys. They released Lockhart and all sped away in an automobile for the Osage hills rendezvous. Posses are scouring the country for the gang.

Lloyd George Weakens In Strenuous Program

WITH LLOYD GEORGE, MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—David Lloyd George's American program today bore the imprint of his own realization that there are after all, limits to what a sixty year old man can do, be he ever so energetic and enthusiastic.

Britains wartime premier came to America with a reputation for never tiring, yet after less than three days of American experience divided between tumultous greetings in the United States and an equally friendly reception from Canadians, he confessed he was "an old man", a tired man and unable to go through with the program laid out for him.

When his various aides or lieutenants, who for want of more definite titles to differentiate their activities are lumped as "secretaries," proved too lacking in stern fiber to say no to hospitable Canadians who insisted that Lloyd George must stop at this or that functino, must speak here or there, must greet this or that group Lloyd George took matters into his own hands and announced to Sir Alfred Cope, one of the secretaries, that the program must be curtailed from this on.

For a time it appeared as though today's public speech in the Montreal Arena to which seven thousand persons had tickets, would gbe off. When Lloyd George learned about it he put his back up and said flatly he would not speak in such a place as a hockey arena, where he would have to strain his voice to make him self heard from the prize ring platform to the limits of the audience.

NEGROES CAUGHT GAMING PAY OFF-STRONG

Its pay day for about 45 negroes in Justice of Peace Osborne Kennedy's office today. About a hundred or more negroes were stampeded by a bunch of laws Sunday afternoon while boisterously engaging in gaming in the Tehuacana hills, southwest. It is said that the practice had been going on before and the good citizens of the community, knowing about the disregard of law and order, notified the proper authorities. John McBay, Ollie Jones, Constable Joe Felz, J. E. Popejoy and Marvin Wooton responded to the call to swoop down upon the bunch while joy reigned unrestrained. They captured about 45 and about twice that many escaped, according to Justice Kennedy. The prisoners have been before him and 41 have paid off, all but 4 pleading guilty. The fines eotaled around $8000, it is learned. "Four of the bunch arrested were white men, two of whom face charges og bootlegging. One of the negroes also was charged with bootlegging and another fined for being in bad company.

MAN-GIRL FREED IN MURDER TRIAL.

E. A. McDonnell and Freddie Thompson

Freddie G. Thompson, of Chicago, the strange combination of masculine and feminine, has been freed by a jury there on a charge of murdering Richard C. Tesmer, who was shot down by a highwayman in his wife's presence. Thompson appeared in court in satin trousers and open shirtwaist, with his hair done up like a woman's and with rouge on his face. He was angry because the Court refused to permit him to wear woman's garb, which he had worn for years. He [illegible] like a woman, acts like a woman and wants to be considered a w[illegible]. For years he had lived with his "husband" as a "wife." He was d[illegible] by Attorney F. A. McDonald.

Fire Chief Asks Citizens To Aid In Fire Prevention

In a communication to the public issued Monday, Fire Chief C. L. Pittman calls upon the citizens of Mexia ot co-operate with the firemen during fire prevention week by working to eliminate all fire hazards in the city.

To the Public

Proclamation of Fire Prevention Week. Oct 7 to 13. has been made by our Mayor, our Governor and our President. Realizing the importance of fire prevention and realizing the necessity of co-operation from the people I want to request that henceforth every man, woman and child in our city endeavor to render every assistance posible in preventing fire.

Fire hazard may be found on every hand. Trash, rubbish and broken boxes constitutes a large portion of direct causes of fires. Electric irons left burning, gasoline promiscuously used and old rags are large contributors to many fires. Children playing with matches has resulted in some of Mexia's most destructive fires Cigarette stubs thrown on awnings and about buildings and homes cause fires directly attributable to carelessness and nothing else.

Let us make every day a fire prevention day and carry on the message of our fellowmen.

The fire department does all that it can to extinguish and eliminate fires however, co-operation from the public is essential.

Last year Mexia had 175 fire alarms. Let us reduce that number We must do everything in our power to reduce that number if we want to save the human life and avoid large property loss. Fire insurance rates can be reduced by preventing fires.

C. L. PITTMAN,
Fires Chief of Mexia.

Equlization Boards Power Limited Says Atty. General

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 8.—Boards of equalization are not charged with authority to add personal property to tax assessor's lists for the purpose of taxation, the Attorney General ruled. Boards have no right to summon persons before it in an effort to secure data on personal property which is not included on tax rolls.

U. S. ESTIMATES THAT FOOD IS INCREASING IN COST

By WILLIAM J. LOSH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The retail cost of food is increasing, according to statistics of the department of labor made public today.

The investigation of food prices, conducted through the bureau of labor statistics, showed changed in the retail cost of food in twenty of the fifty one cities included in the bureau's report.

Figures made public by the department revealed that the retail cost of food in different cities throughout the United States increased from 40 percent to 58 percent during the period of 1913 until the present.

During the month from August 15, 1923 to September 15, 1923, enighteen of the 20 cities showed increases as follows:

Los Angeles and St. Louis, four percent, Balitmore, Fallriver, New Haven and New Orleans 8 percent; Chicago, Kansas City, Norfolk, Providence, Richmond, Rochested and St. Paul two percent; Houston, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Suyannah and Washington, D. C., one percent; while Portland, Maine, showed a decrease of less than five-tenths of one percent; Butte showed no change during the month.

For the year period September 15, to September 15, 1923, all twenty of the cities showed increases as follows:

Indianapolis 10 percent; Chicago and Baltimore 9 percent; Fallriver and New Haven 8 percent; Norfolq, Providence, Rochester and Washington seven percent; Richmond, St. Louis, St. Paul and Savannah sex percent; Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Portland, Maine, five percent; Butte, Houston and New Orleans four percent.

Mrs. Monte Walters Says She Did It To Free Her Husband

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Monte Walters, wife of one of the three convicts who were killed at Eddyville prison after standing off the militia for four days, confessed that she and her husband plotted the escape. She said her love for her husband caused her to plan the escape for him.

NEGRO "VOODOO" DOCTOR SAYS HE KILLED NURSE

PITTSBURGH, Penn., Oct. 8.—Lorendo Savage, negro "voodoo doctor," confessed early today, according to the police, to the murder of Elsie Barthel, 28, a pretty nurse.

Miss Barthel was slain Saturday night. Her body was found under a portico of a deserted mansion of the Bloomfied dsitrict, the head crushed almost beyond recognition by a huge granite block weighing 75 pounds.

In one hand Miss Barthel clutched and envolope containing the hand of death—the ace, deuce, tray of diamonds, and the five of spades. In the other hand was an empty envelope in which the nurse had placed $300 before leaving her home Saturday night.

This sum, according to her relatives, she planned to pay to Savage for alleged love charms and spells. Savage was employed as a butler by Dr. R. S. Marshall, for whom Miss Barthel worked as a nurse.

Savage confessed, police said, to striking the girl a terrific blow in the face when she changed her mind and declined to pay him the money. This led him to murder the girl, according to his confession.

Owing to Savage's supposed "spiritual connections" with the pretty nurse, the negro was suspected from the start. He was arrested last night and after hours of grilling confessed to luring the young woman to the deserted mansion.

Savage then admitted, according to police, that after felling the girl to the ground he picked up the granite stone and dropped it on her head. Not satisfied with this, Savage said he hurled bricks at the lifeless form.

In Savage's lodgings where he lived with his wife, police found a deck of cards with the ace, duce and trey of diamonds and the five of spades missing.

A handkerchief found near the girl's body also belonged to Savage, police said.

The negro's wife and Walter Hauley, a chauffeur, who said he had been a close friend of the nurse for several years, are being held by police as material witnesses.

The coroners inquest revealed that Miss Barthel was about to become a mother.

Man Shot In Abdomen In Accident Sunday

According to reports received from the Brown hospital this afternoon William Cannady is resting nicely today, although suffering from bullet wounds through the abdomen. He was accidentally shot by a companion and friend early Sunday. The accident occurred at a grocery storne on South McKinney, said Justice of the Peace Osborne Kennedy, in speaking of the affair. He said he had not gone into further particulars other than ascertaining that it was purely accidental. The J. I. Riddle ambulance responded to the call and conveyed the injured man to the Brown Hospital. An operation was undergone which he bore up under admirably. His early recovery is anticipated and hoped for.

"Kill Her She Has Killed Our Priest" Frenzied Members Cry When Woman Who Shot Pastor Is Rescued By Police

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Alienists today examined Mrs. Emma Strutynsky, attractive matron who yesterday shot and killed the Rev. Basil Stetsug, age 44, in the church of St. Michael the archangel here.

The Church of St. Michael the Archangel is a Greek Catholic church.

Worshippers scattered through the church were aroused from their meditations and thrown into a panic as the solemn sabbath quiet was shattered by the crash of revolver shots and the shrill maledictions of the woman.

Police were unable to determine the reason for the crime, although the woman, in a confession of the killing, charged the priest with squandering the church's money and leading the people from the path of true religion. Officials are trying to determine whether the indictments of the woman's husband, also a priest, in connection with the embezzlement of funds for constructing the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, had anything to do with the affair.

Mrs. Strutynsky, who is 42, is the wife of Rev. Nicholas Strutynsky, former pastor of the church and now pastor of the Church of St. Johns The Baptist, in Ramey, Pa., In her confession, the woman said the revolver had been given her by Father Valentine Delogh of Youngstown, Ohio, "for my own protection." Police are checking up this statement.

The principals in the tragedy are Ukranians.

Five weeks ago the woman came here with the sole idea of killing the priest, she told police. For days she shadowed her victim, several times on the verge of using her revolver, but each time she withheld her fire for fear of failure, she said.

Saturday she decided on the church as the theatre of action and the sabbath as the time, she said. Men and women, sitting in quiet meditations or kneeling in prayer, paid no attention to a tall, slender figure, robed in black as she moved down the aisle. At the altar the woman knelt as if in prayer.

William Cvozdjak, Sunday school teacher in the church, noted that the woman appeared to be a stranger, and he asked if he could do anything for her. She responded with a request to confess. Gvobdjak led her to the confessional, where the Rev. Stetsuk awaited her.

A moment later the crack of a revolver was heard. After the first shot, the Rev. Stetsuk staggered from the confessional behind the altar into full view. His hand was clasped to his mouth and a thin stream of red trickled from between his fingers.

Another shot rang out and a bullet pierced the priest's back. He stag

Impeachment of Walton May Be First Order of Business When Legislature Convenes In Oklahoma Capitol Thursday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 8.—Consideration of impeachment charges against Governor Jack Walton may be the first order of business of the Lower House of the Oklahoma legislature which is scheduled to meet Thursday under the call issued by the governor late Saturday.

"The governor's order calling us into session was unnecessary." W. D. McBee, Duncan, house opposition leader, declared today.

The House has been in session since September 26, when our meeting was dispersed at the Capitol. We are free to take up the matter of impeachment charges against the governor today if we wish", he asserted.

Requests of the governor for the immediate passage of a measure unmasking the Klan, the specific measure outlined in the last call of the state executive to the house, will probably be deferred until after an investigation is made of the governor's office and the state department, house leaders indicated today.

The authority of the house to lodge impeachment charges under the governor's latest call will not be disputed according to Walton, who declared he would welcome an investigation and that no effort would be made to delay action.

More than a score of hosue members were here for the opening of another week's battle today and others scheduled to arrive soon.

Leaders of both factions refused to show their hands over the week end and a lull in action, the first for weeks, was apparent today as the stage was being set for the solons gathering Thursday.

"I have nothing to say at this time and probably will not have anything until a quorum of the house get together," W. D. McBee declared. A quorum before Thursday was assured by McBee. At the governor's home the regular meetings with press representatives were dispensed with over the week end.

MAKING MEXIA SAFE FOR THE PROPERTY OWNERS

This is Fire Prevention Week in Mexia. The period is being observed throughout the United States, in an endeavor to make America safe for the property owners.

Fire Chief Pittman states that there were 175 fire alarms in Mexia last year. That means that the Fire Department made a run approximately every two days during the twelve months period. Such a condition is alarming and if Mexia merchants and home and property owners act wisely they will cooperate this week and all following weeks in reducing fire hazards to the very minimum. This must be done if the fire insurance rates come down like they should. Mexia is now being discriminated against in the matter of fire insurance rates. The only way she can hope to remedy this glaring loss is by cooperating in every campaign to prevent fires that may be called and to be eternally vigilant in guarding against hazards around their premises. Last week, W. R. Hodges, Sanitary Inspector, conducted a quiet clean up campaign, and much trash and debris representing menace to health and regular fire traps were hauled to the incinerator for destruction.

Ben F. Stollenwerck, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, urges that the merchants and business men cooperate in the publicity essential to make clean up week in Mexia the greatest possible success. It has been suggested that the advertisers incorporate in the advertisements a line regarding the campaign.

That's a good idea.

Let churches, schools, clubs and citizens cooperate.

CANCER SPREADING

The amazing spread of cancer in Britain has driven the Health authorities in London to appeal to the medical officials of every district in England for assistance in preventing and stamping out the disease.

It is pointed out that the most insidious aspect of cancer is that the disease is painless in its early stages and often throughout its entire course. On this ground the appeal asks for the utmost vigilance on the part of doctors generally and stresses the need of early treatment.

Rough stumps of teeth, badly-fitting dentures, smoking of clay pipes, clothing which causes irritation of particular regions of the body are designated as among the chief causes of cancer, the entire medical fraternity is asked to mobilize for the purpose of preventing and exterminating this terrible scourge.

The road to Mexia should be marked all the way from Corsicana, directions being specified at every road intersection and at every corner where there is danger of getting off the right road. Every day, folks coming to Mexia lose their way because the road is improperly marked or not marked at all. Signs are falling down, the road is disgracefully rough and unattended, and the South-bound tourists gets a conception that he is leaving civilization behind him soon after getting out of sight of Corsicana.

The X-All Highway and all other Highways leading into and through Mexia should be marked in Mexia. Those who have ever tried to follow highways know how helpful it is to be thus guided on their tours. Tourists may lose their way in the smallest of villages, let alone in a thriving little city of 10,000.

The town that claims the Currie field should see that the roads leading to it are kept. Owners everywhere are held strictly responsible for that which they have.

There was a time that Mexia's streets were the subject of ridicule by every visitor here. That is no longer the case. Mexia now has a right to get back at some of them.

LAND FOR THE VETERANS

LAS CRUCES, N. Mex., Oct. 8—Six hundred acres of public land in Socorro County were thrown open to entry of ex-service men by the land office here today. The tracts remaining untaken on January 8 will be thrown open to public entry on that date. The land is suitable for grazing.

LITTLE FOXES

Life is made up a number of little things, that if looked at separately do not appear to have much value, but when we see their relation to great achievements we better appreciate them. We are not always able to estimate in the beginning the magnitude of any great work; things that look very small at the start may grow to enormous proportions. How a handful of snow can be rolled over and over again till it is a huge ball is familiar to each of us. And the old saying that "Great oaks from little acrons grow" is a true one; the village wag has put it this way: "Great aches from little toe-corns grow."

It has been estimated that if there should be added an extra kernel to each ear of corn grown the yearly corn crop would be increased by more than five million bushels.

When Abraham left his home in answer to God's command to go to Canaan he could not conceive of the magnitude of his work, but from the immigration of this one man the three greatest monotheistic religions trace their source; five hundred million Christians, two hundred million Moslems, and twelve million Jews, or nearly half the total population of the world.

When Lafayette as a true lover of liberty came to America and offered his services to us in the Revolutionary War, one little dreamed that this act of his would be one of the arguments used that we should join the allies in the greatest war in history.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

WHAT GEORGE WILLIAMS STARTED

(Carthage (Mo.) Evening News)

A gentleman named George Williams, aided by sundry associates, started somesthing back in London in 1844, something that has since spread all over the civilized world and which has made its healthful influence strongly felt wherever it penetrated. The thing the Mr. Williams and his friends started was an organization—an organization for young men—and the good that has been done by it is so vast that the founders deserve many times the fame that miserly history has vouchsafed them. The organization that they originated was the Young Men's Christian Asociation.

Carthage has had a "Y" for a number of years and the benefits that the town anl its citizenry have derived therefrom cannot be estimated. It has taken boys at the age at which influences outside the home first begin to make themselves most strongly felt. It has furnished these lads recreation, healthful exercise and athletics of all sorts and has associated them with the proper sort of hand in hand with the home, the congenial companions. It has worked school and the church in inculcating the moral virtues and physical well being which go to make citizens worth while.

It has taken young men after they were young men and has made them better individuals and better citizens, physically and mentally. It has taken mature men, some of them merging into the physical flabbiness which comes to inactive persons along about middle age and by means of various sports and athletic activities has helped them to bring themselves back to a sturdier physique, better health and a keener mentality. Its influence has been wide and always good—and in addition it is an enjoyable organization to belong to, including in its membership a host of worth while fellows with whom it is a pleasure to associate.

The Y. M. C. A. deserves the support of every person in Carthage and it has always had it. That is why it is one of the best of its sort in proportion to the size of the town that there is in the entire United States. But it still needs this support and the more members it has the more worthwhile it is. If you are a man or a boy you ought to belong to the Y .M. C. A. If you are already in you should promptly renew your membership. If you are not in you should buttonhole the first worker you see next week wearing the red or blue button of one of the teams and tell him that you want to join without further delay.

SPECIAL SESSION OF CHAMBER OF DIRECTORS MEETS TUESDAY

Secretary Stollenwerck of the Chamber of Commerce has just returned from a meeting of the Inlustrial Department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce held at Dallas on Saturday October 6, and he states that since attending this meeting he feels more encouraged with reference to the cotton mill situation that he has for for some time.

There will be a special meeting of the board of directoars of the Chamber of Commerce held in the office of that organization in the city hall at 4 p. m., Tuesday, October 9th and full attendance of the board is urged as the Secretary will make a report to the board of directors before making a report to the general public of the meeting Saturday.

Mutinous Sailors Find Simple Life On South Sea Isle

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 8—Down under our continent, on the smoll Pitcairn Island 2000 miles off the coast of South American, live 137 descendants of a few British sailors who two centuries ago mutinied, killed their officers, and settled on that little dot on the world's map.

With Polynesian wives they took from Tahiti, the English refugees set up their own government, and they today their descendants live in utmost simplicity, but in happiness and contentment.

Not oftener than once a year they are visited by some steamer. The latest vessel to call at the island was the schooner William Taylor, with Captain John Trainor in comand, which entered Portland harbor a few days ago, the crew revealing strange tales of experiences on the unusual voyage.

The islanders were in the best of health and spirits, Captain Trainor reported here, and not having had any communication with the outside world for more than a year, plied him with questions about happenings in other lands.

Despite the fact that the Pitcairn residents have exiled themselves from their homeland, they still cling close to things English, teaching their half-breed children the English language. Although their mode of living is almost primitive, they are very well educated, the schooner's master said. Still they hold to their own and express no desire for additional comforts or luxuries.

Their needs are simple. They raise everything they wish to eat, and live on fish, native fruits and vegetables, all supplied by their own hands. Cloth, tools and other simple supplies are all they need from "outside."

For these meager necessities they exchange with the bargaining schooner masters who visit them at long intervals the bountiful fruits and nuts which grow wild on the island, practically the only thing they have to offer.

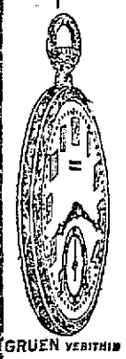
TIME HILL

The Center of Fine Time-keeping in America.

On Time Hill, in Cincinnati, is the American home of the Gruen Guild of Watch makers—the center of fine time keeping in America.

It is a quaint workshop suggesting the famous guildhalls of the seventeenth century. One can almost visualize the worthy craftsmen of old climbing the rustic stairways up the hill to its great timbered doors.

Here a group of modern guildsmen work, men who deem their craft an art, and who put into it all the ideals and traditions which exalted their ancesters, the masters of the ancient Guild of Watch Makers.



GRUEN VERITHIN

It is a thoroughly modern workshop where men talk and think and live watches. The Gruen movements are received from the guild brethren in Madre-Biel, Switzerland, and here the many beautiful Gruen cases are designed and made, the movements fitted into them, timed, tested and sent forth to the leading Gruen Jewelers throughout the United States. See our window display and the hand colored picture of the American Workshop located on Time Hill, Cincinnati.

"Nearly Everybody Reads the News"

The Mexia Daily News' Sport Page

The world's series will be covered for United Press client newspapers by a staff composed exclusively of United Press trained writers. The Mexia Daily News is a U. P. client.

This staff will be headed by Henry L. Farrell, sports editor. Farrell is a graphic descriptive writer and is recognized as one of the leading sports authorities of the country.

Farrell, who has been in the press box at practically every big sporting event for several years, will dictate the running play by play description of the games.

In addition, he will write a daily analysis pointing out the breaks which caused victory and defeat and telling the inside story of how each contest was won.

Paul R. Mallon, reporter whose signature is well known throughout the country, will have a daily feature on the most interesting aspect of each game, devoting his attention especially to the "behind the scenes" developments that are not seen by the fans.

Steve Hannagan will write about the crowd and have a daily column of sidelights on the great sports drama.

These three men will have the support of a staff of United Press trained news gathers who will cover every development of the big series, all working together to give United Press clients a complete, colorful story of the world series from the time the first fan gets in line to the day the players get their money.

HUGGINS DUCKS THE SPOTLIGHT WORKS UNDER COVER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK.—Winning the third straight American League pennant for New York proved such an easy job for the Yankees that it rather detracted, or perhaps made less positive, the credit that little Miller Huggins deserves for his success in handling the team.

The Yanks were almost a cinch for the pennant from the beginning of the season. Critics were almost unanimous in picking the champions of 1921 and 1922 to repeat and they more than lived up to expectations and predictions.

Huggins had an important part in guiding the team through a successful season. His task was not so much to get the best out of his fine material as it was to prevent them from doing their worst through over-confidence and an inclination to take things easy.

The little manager of the club was fortified with a wonderful pitching staff and he displayed some skill in handling his staff so that they remain in form through the entire season.

Worked Under Cover

His work has been under cover and the fans who base their judgment upon superficial evidence find nothing much in the victory of the Yanks that could be construed as a vindication of a capable manager who has never appealed to New Yorkers.

Regardless of the fact that it is something of a feat to win three pennants in succession even with a star team, Huggins gets little credit and his reward is the comment that they should have had the pennant cinched in August and that any manager could win with that kind of a team.

Huggins has never been popular in New York because he did not care enough to set aside his natural inclination to avoid the limelight. Of a retiring disposition off the field, modest and unassuming and, at the same time, impervious to unjust criticism, Huggins has gone quietly about his business and in building a three-time pennant winner out of a lot of uniform-fillers he has really accomplished something.

Plenty of Money

It is true that Huggins had almost countless money behind him and the privilege of buying where and when he saw fit, but all the money in the mint would not have enabled him to produce a pennant-winning combination if he did not have good judgment enough to know what players were worth buying for the club.

Huggins has never made a bad buy and his shrewdness was shown last Winter when he arranged a trade with the Boston Red Sox in which he secured Herb Pennock, the veteran southpaw pitcher.

He was severely criticised for sending George Murray, a promising young pitcher, and Norman McMillan, a fine young infielder, to Boston in the deal for a pitcher that was voted generally to be through. But his judgment was vindicated when Pennock developed into one of the best pitchers of the season and the youngsters sent to Boston fizzled.

Someone deserves great credit for the harmony that was established on the Yankee team this season New spirit was instilled into the players, who were divided in rival factions last year, and they played ball together all season.

Credit Due Huggins

Although he has not claimed any credit for it, Huggins no doubt had much to do with the transformation of the team, although it is certain that he would disclaim all credit if anyone should be kind enough to praise him for it.

Critics scoff at the crude style of baseball played by the Yanks, in which the sock prevails over the scientific, and they blame Huggins for the dumb game that the Club displayed in the last world's series with the Giants.

There is no doubt that the Yanks were stupid and played like saps against the Giants. McGraw, as a manager, was made to look like a champion against a second rater when the Yanks were led into traps as old as the game itself; but it must be remembered that McGraw is the smartest manager of all time and that he has material which is mentally capable of supplying the mechanics for his directing genius.

Huggins has done very well with the material at his disposal. He has handled three pennant winners, made money for the club and produced a team that supports the biggest investment in baseball and the finest ball park in the world.

NEW YORK HAS MONOPOLY ON BIG LEAGUE SERIES

By HENRY FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Maintaining what has become almost a monopoly on the world's series, New York again will have a private fight for the championship of the baseball world when the Giants and the Yankees meet for the third successive year to decide the championship.

It is nothing new for one team to win three pennants in a row. The National League has seven such triple winners on record—Chicago in 1880, 1881 and 1882; Boston in 1891, 1892 and 1893; Baltimore in 1894, 1895 and 1896; Pittsburgh in 1901, 1902 and 1903; Chicago in 1906, 1907 and 1908; and New York in 1911, 1912 and 1913 and again ten years later in 1921, 1922 and 1923.

The feat of the Yankees in winning three pennants in a row is more of a novelty in the younger American League, however, as the Detriot Tigers, who won the championship in 1907, 1908 and 1909, were the only club to do it in the past.

Never before, however, have the same two pennant winners engaged in the world's series three times in succession. The best previous mark was established in 1907 and 1908 when the Chicago Cubs and the Detroit Tigers met in the series. The only case in which two teams from the same city took part in the series was in 1906 when the Cubs and the White Sox had a private series in Chicago.

In winning the National League pennant with the Giants Manager John J. McGraw established a new record also by finishing in first place for the ninth time. No other manager can approach this wonderful achievement and it is very doubtful if it ever will be equalled.

The victory of the Yankees in the American League placed Hillr, Huggins in a tie with Hughey Jennings, who won three succesive pennants with the Detriot Tigers, but it is just half what Connie Mack piled up in the days when the Philadelphia Athletics were in their glory.

Last year's series between the Giants and the Yanks was one of the most drab and ordinary of all that have been played.

When forty-nine various kinds of playing records were made or equaled in the 1921 series, only one new record was made last fall and five minor marks were equaled.

The two teams made a new record when they drew $125,147 to one game.

Erin Ward tied a record by hitting two homers in one game.

Bill Cunningham tied a record by making two assists from the outfield in one game.

The Giants tied a record by not losing one game and the Yanks tied another by not winning a game.

They both tied a record by engaging in one "no-decision" game.

Football Squad Loses Its Mascot

SHERMAN, Texas, Oct. 8.—"Pat," the Austin College kangaroo mascot is this season's first grid casualty.

While the football squad was in training at Woodlake, near here, "Pat" was taken ill with a malaly veterinarians couldn't diagnose. He grew steadily worse and died here recently.

"Pat" came here last winter from California and it is thought the change of climate together with loneliness caused his death.

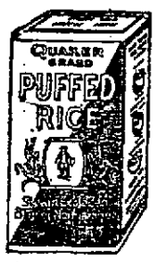
The finest grain foods children ever get—airy, flaky Puffed Grains

Professor A. P. Anderson invented Quaker Puffed Wheat and Quaker Puffed Rice. Thus he brought to millions of children the finest cereal dainties in existence.

The grains are steam exploded—shot from guns. Over 125 million explosions are caused in every kernel. Thus the food cells are broken for easy digestion. The grain elements are fitted to feed.

The grains are puffed to airy globules, 8 times normal size. They are flaky, flavory, crisp. No other cereal dainty compares with their delights.



Quaker Puffed Rice

Growing children must have minerals, vitamines and bran

The purpose is to make whole grains delicious and digestible.

Whole wheat supplies 12 minerals which growing children must have. It supplies their need of bran. And milk is rich in vitamines.

Every mother wants her children to get these elements in plenty, and every day. Then make whole wheat and milk a dish so tempting that they revel in it. Serve Quaker Puffed Wheat and milk. Never let a day go by without it.

Quaker Puffed Wheat

Millions of people are better fed since Puffed Grains were invented. Millions get more joy from breakfast. See that those in your home get their share.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE BOLAND

(Copyright 1923 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

Its Daintiness Takes This Mode Sailing

Little Girl's Dress With Bloomers

This Autumn discloses interesting little dresses fashioned, as this design is, from plain gingham, although other tub fabrics, or even silks may be used instead. Its decorative scheme is formed by the clever use of simple embroidery stitches that are quickly worked.

Nearly all frocks for very young ladies these days have bloomers to match, though sometimes if fashion demands the carrying out of a decided color scheme, they are of both contrasting hue and fabric. The dress is held in at the sides and back with a narrow belt of self-material. The neck is round and finished with the plain braid that shares favor with the stitching in the trimming, and the sleeves are merely little frills set into the armholes for smart effect rather than service.

The bloomers are gathered into straight and narrow bands of self-material. They may either be attached to a separate waist or buttoned onto a separate underbody.

The embroidery is done with the open chain stitch, which is illustrated in the figure. Two stamped lines are necessary for this stitch. Bring the thread through on the left hand traced line, then pass it back on the right hand one opposite the first point; bring through again on the other line and a little below. To form the loops, the thread must be held down with the thumb of the left hand. Draw the thread through to the right side, place the needle exactly again where it was brought through and take a stitch to the opposite side, taking care not to draw the thread too tightly. Again place the needle inside of the loop, holding the thread down with the left hand and bring it out on the opposite side, just below the previous loop made. This forms another loop. This stitch may be used for ladder effects and it is also effective for leaves, as it can be adapted to lines of varying widths.

A little frock like this is practical and nice-looking for the little miss who is approaching the kindergarten age. Applique or any other form of embroidery may be used in its decoration. Two and one-half yards of gingham will make the dress and bloomers of fine sateen, the mode serves dressier purposes.

Vitek Dividend Mailed To Its Stockholders

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Over 6,000 dividend checks were mailed to as many shareholders in the Vitek Oil and Refining company by the Southern States and Western States Oil corporations on September 30. The checks represented three months accumulated dividends on the 100,000 shares of Southern and Western exchanged for Vitek units. Southern and Western each pay 1 per cent monthly. The dividends on the interem certificates are payable quarterly. No check for less than $1 was mailed. Dividend credits of less than $1 will be allowed to accumulate until they reach that amount when checks will be forwarded. The reason for this is obvious; due to the fact that the committee desires to conserve resources and curtail all expenses possible. The next dividend is scheduled for distribution December 31, 1923. Over 12,000 Vitek shareholders have exchanged their units for interem certificates in Southern and Western States.

The Vitek properties in Smackover and Eldorado are now being developed by the Sure Oil corporation, operating organization of the Western and Southern States in Arkansas. The Sure oil completed a 125-barrel well on the McClanahan-Vitek lease in section 6-16-15 early in September. Gusher production was drilled on the adjoining lease early in the Smackover boom, but the flush from the initial wells seems to have drained the gusher production and most of the oil acreage in section 6-16-15 has settled down to pumping wells.

The Sure Oil also completed a 350-barrel well on the Allen-Vitek lease, section 18-17-14 during the past week. This is the second good well drilled in on this lease.

The Most Beloved Book In Romantic Fiction

"VANITY FAIR"

from the classic novel of William Makepeace Thackeray
Featured cast: Mabel Ballin, Hobart Bosworth, Harrison Ford, George Walsh, Earl Fore, and Eleanor Boardman.

"Vanity Fair" has been hailed by generations of readers as the most fascinating work of fiction in all English literature. Now the famous characters step forth from the pages of Thackeray's great romantic novel with their loves and intrigues, their weaknesses and their virtues to take part in Hugo Ballin's memorable picturization of the absorbing story. Picturegoers will be thrilled by the lavishly beautiful pictures of this gay and adventurous period, by scenes of dazzling splendor, by the society beauties and courageous soldiers who pass by in splendor, living fully whether the music sounds the invitation to the waltz or the bugle calls to battle. Here is fiction's greatest love classic made into a colossal photoplay of stirring grandeur. Here is an achievement of the films that no one will want to miss.

A Blouse of Exquisite Simplicity

Fashioned of Biege Radium Silk

Unusually smart and simple are the separate blouses fashioned of radium silk and flat crepe. They follow the lines of the figures closely and are quite as handsome with self-trimmings of the plain grosgrain ribbons, as with the more elaborate embroideries.

One easily could write a chapter on the season's blouses, for they were never so varied as now. While many are handsomely and elaborately trimmed with braid and embroidery, they are no more attractive than this model decorated with a scroll design carried out with narrow ribbon. Scroll effects are all the rage, not only in applied embroideries but in woven and printed effects. They are oriental in their origin and there is no simple decoration that achieves so much in the way of elegant and artistic [illegible]

The ribbon is stitched on the blouse illustrated in border effect. The beauty of the model is increased with the trimming and background of one color. There are beautiful blouses, however, in which two or three tone of one color are used in the decorative scheme.

The borders are about three inches in width. If preferred the lower one may be wider than the upper, depending, of course, upon the figure of the wearer. One who is tall and slender, with a long waistline, will find borders of gradiated widths quite effective. Short women, inclined to stoutness would do well to make the borders narrow.

Fig. 1. shows the fine running stitches to sew the ribbon on the silk Fig. II describes the design formed by sewing on the ribbon. Take the stitches along the very edge just as soutache braid is sometimes sewed on. No particular pattern is required for the border because the ribbon is simply carried round and round until figures of the desired size are formed after which another figure is begun.

A blouse of this type is very effective with a separate skirt and one of the new Turkish turbans. The same silk used for the blouse may be employed to fashion the turban, which boasts only a brilliant buckle for its trimming.

After the design is formed, two or three plain rows of ribbon are added, and in this way the depth of the border may be nicely regulated. Ribbon is used in bend effect on the short sleeves.

While the soft nut-brown shades are very popular for separate blouses, the Chinese colors are in great demand, for instance Chinese blue, copper red and citron. Jade and medium tints also extremely fashionable.

Alford was doing business under the trade name of the Rex Cafe; that plaintiff at the special instance and request of the defendant, Commercial Hotel Company sold to them on the several dates specified in an account certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries needed in running said business; that in consideration of the sale of said goods, defendant promised to pay therefor the amount charged in said account, being $604.20; that on October 14, 1921, plaintiff at the instance and request of defendant Rex Cafe sold and delivered to it goods, wares and merchandise which said Rex Cafe agreed to pay to the amount charged therefor same being $620.68, that said cafe was run by J. R. Alford until December 16, 1921, when he sold an interest in said cafe to the Commercial Hotel Company; that at that time said cafe owed this plaintiff the sum of $589.88; that on or about December 16, 1921, J. R. Alford doing business under the name of Rex Cafe being indebted to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company in the sum of $573.91 the said N. R. Ferguson, and J. R. Alford represented to plaintiff that the said sum of $573.91 would not have to be paid within thirty days if he, the said Ferguson, would purchase an interest in the Rex Cafe; that said Commercial Hotel Company would pay said $573.91 within thirty days; plaintiff agreed to said contract and in pursuance thereof the said Ferguson, Underwood and Jackson purchased an interest in said Cafe and in consideration therefor promised to pay plaintiff and the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the amount mentioned. That the said J. R. Alford transferred to the Mexia Commercial Hotel Company an interest in the Rex Cafe and placed them in possession thereof.

Plaintiff would show to the Court that on November 8, 1921, and January 13, 1922, the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company sold and delivered to the Rex Cafe certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries for which said Cafe agreed to pay the amount set out in said account the total being the sum of $620.26; that J. R. Alford at that time was the owner of said Cafe, the said Alford being indebted to a number of persons among whom was the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company who sold to said Commercial Hotel Company the said Rex Cafe, agreed to pay said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the indebtedness that the Rex Cafe then owed the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. And afterwards incurred debts to the amount of $106.35 which it promised to pay the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. That afterwards the manager of the Rex Cafe gave to said Grocery Company its check for $492.71 which check was turned down and not paid. That on January 14, 1922, said Hotel Company gave a check to said Wholesale Grocery Company for the sum of $106.35 which check was turned down. Plaintiff would show that it has purchased of said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company for a valuable consideration the indebtedness due said Grocery Company from the Rex Cafe and the Commercial Hotel and the same has not yet been paid and plaintiff is entitled to recover said account.

That all of the said accounts are due and unpaid, and the defendants and each of them have refused to pay any part to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1845.14.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a trial hereof they have judgment for said $1845.14 with interest cost of suit, and such other and further relief, as it may be entitled.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923.

Bossy Rides To The Pound Pen In Hoodlum Car

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 8.—Houston is a peaceful city!

As proof of this statement listen to David Turner, driver of the police patrol wagon:

"It's so doggone peaceful they've started to hauling cows in the 'buggy' just to have an excuse for keeping it up."

A few days ago city pound officers were called to corral an incorrigible cow. In their excitement they put in a call for help to police healquarters and forgot to mention the circumstances.

The patrol dashed to the scene and as there was no time to lose hustled "Bossy" into the "wagon" and took her to the pound.

Football Squad Loses Its Mascot

SHERMAN, Texas, Oct. 8.—"Pat," the Austin College kangaroo mascot is this season's first grid casualty.

While the football squad was in training at Woodlake, near here, "Pat" was taken ill with a malaly veterinarians couldn't diagnose. He grew steadily worse and died here recently.

"Pat" came here last winter from California and it is thought the change of climate together with loneliness caused his death.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon M. F. Parsley by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day thereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published to appear at the next regular term of the Justice Court for Precinct No. 4, of Limestone County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Mexia, Texas, on the second Tuesday in October, A. D., 1923, the same being the 9th day of October, A. D., 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 13th day of August, A. D., 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 736, wherein E. C. Nicholson is plaintiff, and M. F. Parsley is defendant, said petition alleging that the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff, in the sum of $68.55, as a balance due on a verified account, which is long past due and unpaid and that though often requested, defendant has failed and refused to pay the same or any part thereof, except the sums that have been credited upon the verified account and that by reason for the same, the defendant has become liable to this plaintiff in the further sum of $20.00, as attorney's fees, and costs of suit. Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and that he have judgement for his debt, attorneys fees and costs of suit and for such other and further relief, both special and general in law and in equity to which he is entitled to receive.

Herein fail not but have you before said court on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand this the 11th day of September, A. D., 192..

"MAIN STREET" NOVEL MAKES IDEAL PICTURE

"Main Street" which opened today at the National Theatre and which will continue throughout the week, is a picture of pictures. The word great has been handied about so often and freely that it has lost some of its connotations. Yet, it is the word, and the only word, fit to describe this wonderful picture which has lost not a single quality in its transposition to the screen from Sinclair Lewis' novel of the same name.

It is long since such a picture was seen, and the highest praise is due all that participated in it, to Harry Beaumont, the director; to Florence Vidor, Monte Blue and the excellent supporting cast, consisting of Harry Myers, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Robert Gordon, Josephine Crowell, Gordon Griffith, Otis Harlan and Alan Hale.

Demands Admiral Grayson's Horse Be Selected

Admiral C. T. Grayson

The match race to be run at Belmont Park, Long Island, on October 20, between Ben Irish's Derby winner, Papyrus, and the best American three-year-old, for a purse of $100,000 and an international gold plate, is causing considerable stir, now that Brigadier-General William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the Army Air Service has written to August Belmont, of the Jockey Club, demanding that Admiral Cary T. Grayson's My Own be named as the American horse, instead of Harry Sinclair's Zev. General Mitchell's demand is based on the refusal of Sinclair's trainer, Sam Hildreth, to permit Zev, who cast a frog in a recent race, to meet My Own in a match race.

Plans And Specifications For Hughes Demonstration Home Are Approved

Contractors In City Invited To Submit Bids

W. K. Boyd, President of The News Publishing Company, this afternoon announced that the plans had been decided upon and specifications drawn up for the J. K. Hughes Demonstration Home. All contractors in the city are invited to submit estimates on the home. It has been decided that this will be a turn key job says Mr. Boyd, but since it is to be a demonstration home, to shoow the public the actual cost of home construction, the succesful bidder will be required, as a part of the contract, to itemize every expense attached, lumber, builders material, labor, carpenter work, plumbing, wiring, papering, painting, etc. These will be published from day to day in The Mexia Daily News, as they may be determined.

Local contractors are invited to ask any questions or to confer with Mr. Boyd regarding the specifications and ask any questions they may desire. The contract will be let by next Saturday at noon, October 14, 1923. All bids must be in by 1 o'clock of that day.

The specifications are as follows:

REVITALIZATION OF C. C. BOARD MEETING IS CONSIDERED

The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is very anxious to secure a regular attendance of the board of directors for the weekly meetings and both he and President Sweatt feel that the directors should co-operate to that extent.

There are numerous matters that come up on which the Secretary does not wish to take all of the responsibility and he feels that a short conference each week, attended by a majority of the board, would be very beneficial.

Recently a letter was sent out to each of the directors, asking them to express themselves on two propositions one was his opinion with reference to a weekly luncheon of the board of directors probably on Tuesday, and the other was the advisability of having a "Mexia Day" at the Waco Cotton Palace. In order to show what some of the directors think of the propositions, some of their replies without any names are herewith reproduced.

One says:

"In reply to your letter of 3rd, will say that I an in favor of "Mexia Day" at Cotton Palace(if something creditable can be arranged, but I am not in favor of a half-baked affair, that would be a reflection rather than a credit.

On the other proposition, I can see no use in paying six bits for a meal in order to have a meeting of the directors but I am in favor of a weekly meeting, and if any are not sufficiently interested to give an hour per week, it looks to me as if there should be some openings for new directors.

However, I am with the majority."

Another says:

"As the luncheon hour for get together meeting, personally, I do not care for the lunch but this is probably the best way to get an attendance worth while, so if the others favor it, count me in."

Another says:

"I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 3rd and will abide by whatever decision is made by the board of directors, but personally I am opposed to luncheon meetings; in the first place looking at it from my own stand point. I do not eat breakfast and really prefer a good wholesome lunch at home."

One says:

"In reply to your letter of October 3rd addressed to the board of directors with reference to the regular weekly meetings, I beg to advise that I am of the opinion that it will be a very hard undertaking to get the members of the board of directors together at a weekly luncheon, in view of the other luncheons and other civic matters taking up so much of our time.

I will state however that I am very much interested in the operations of the Chamber of Commerce especially some of the great work that you are now doing and attempting to do, and if the majority of the board are agree able to this plan, I naturally will fall in line with them.

With reference to the Mexia Day at the Waco Cotton Palace, I think this is a real good idea and if properly advertised could be made a good advertising proposition for Mexia. I will be only too glad to line up with a bunch of boosters to make a success of the proposition, I will be glad for you to command me when I can serve you in any capacity."

Still another says:

"Replying to your letter of 3rd I do not believe that a special day at the Waco Cotton Palace would pull any particular chrowd from Mexia.

I am in favor of directors meeting as sugested."

Another says.

"I think the weekly luncheon is alright. If you are going to have a Chamber of Commerce and a board of directors then your board should meet.

I do not think enough people would go to the Cotton Palace to go to the trouble to have a Mexia Day designated. With best wishes."

Another says.

"Replying to oyur letter of the 3rd regarding Mexia Day at the Waco Cotton Palace.

My opinion of this stunt as an advertising medium—I do not think much of. That is only my opinion of course, what I am for is for some way and there is a way, to get our farmers back to Mexia to do their trading and I feel confident that a Mexia Day in Waco would have very little effect in that line.

With reference to a regular weekly meeting of the board of directors. I think the suggestion is very good. We could try it out for a few times any way and see just what results it gets.

Hoping the above information is what you decired, with kindest personal regards, I am."

Another says:

"I think it would be a good idea to have a Mexia Day designated at Waco Cotton Palace and on that day use some means of letting the people know we are from Mexia.

As to the weekly luncheon hour I do not think that best on account of having so many other luncheons each week now. Have the meetings on Monday afternoon, pernaps that would bring them out.'

KILL HER ..... gered on, calling out that he had been shot. The black robed woman rushed from the confessional, and while she shouted "you cheat, you oppressor!" she fired three more shots at the back of the lurching body. One bullet struck the priest in the hip and the others pierced his robes.

Near the door to the street the priest collapsed.

The woman ran toward the door and attempted to hurdle the body. Two women seized her. Other members of the congregation who had taken flight or were cowering in behind benches gathered about the slayer while cries of "kill her, she has killed our priest" rang out.

Some one called a policeman and he in turn summoned a squad from a nearby station. They rescued the woman after much difficulty, as frenzied men and women tore her dress and jostled her about.

In her confession the woman said that her husband had built up the church here and then was removed to make way for the Rev. Stetsuk.

"My husband gave his life to building the church and then he was dismissed," she said. "Father Stetsuk cheated my people. He was a cheat and a hypocrite. I had to kill him."

Police said the woman appeared to be mentally unbalanced.

Officials later said that the woman's husband had been indicted on a charge of embezzling $50,000 of the money secured for building the Chicago church.

One official said that the Rev. Stetsuk had threatened to push the prosecution against Rev. Strutynsky and this may have been the motive for the killing.

The woman is a Ukrainian writer and lecturer of note. Her husband was said by polcie to be a member of the Ukrainian nobility. He is on the way here to defend his wife.

J. P. Dunnaway is confined to his bed with an attack of dengue fever. He will be unable to lead the Salesmanship luncheon Wednesday and W. R. Hodges will have charge of the program that day.
